Feature Destination:

This month's feature destination is Victoria, British Columbia. Victoria is a small city (less than 100K people) but is a significant tourist destination with over 3 million visitors annually. Overall, the island is relatively wheelchair friendly, with cutouts at the curbs, and traffic lights with audio crossing signals. There is also a company in Vancouver who rents a wheelchair accessible RV to explore further into British Columbia. To read more, visit the Victoria destination page at the AbilityTrip website!

AbilityTip of the month:

AbilityTrip member, Dustin had a fantastic travel tip he would like to share with our community... "If you're traveling with batteries, be ready to have some spares on hand. Because my grandma had oxygen and the tours would take us far from the ship, we carried around 8, dry cell batteries with us at all times." Thank you Dustin for sharing!
