AbilityTip of the month:

An AbilityTrip member, Michael, shares his tip of the month: A trip into another country that is not familiar must be well planned in advance, everything from flight, to transportation, to accommodations. Remember that accessible standards can be different from your own standards from back home. Ask lots of questions when planning your trip abroad to ensure your accessibility requirements are met. Thank you Michael for sharing!

In the News...:

This month in the news is about a CNN video called, Humiliating Pat Down. A cancer Survivor is humiliated by a pat down when his Urostomy bag seal is pulled off. This story illustrates how important it is for TSA staff to be trained on different medical conditions and to listen to travelers with disabilities concerns with pat down procedures.
